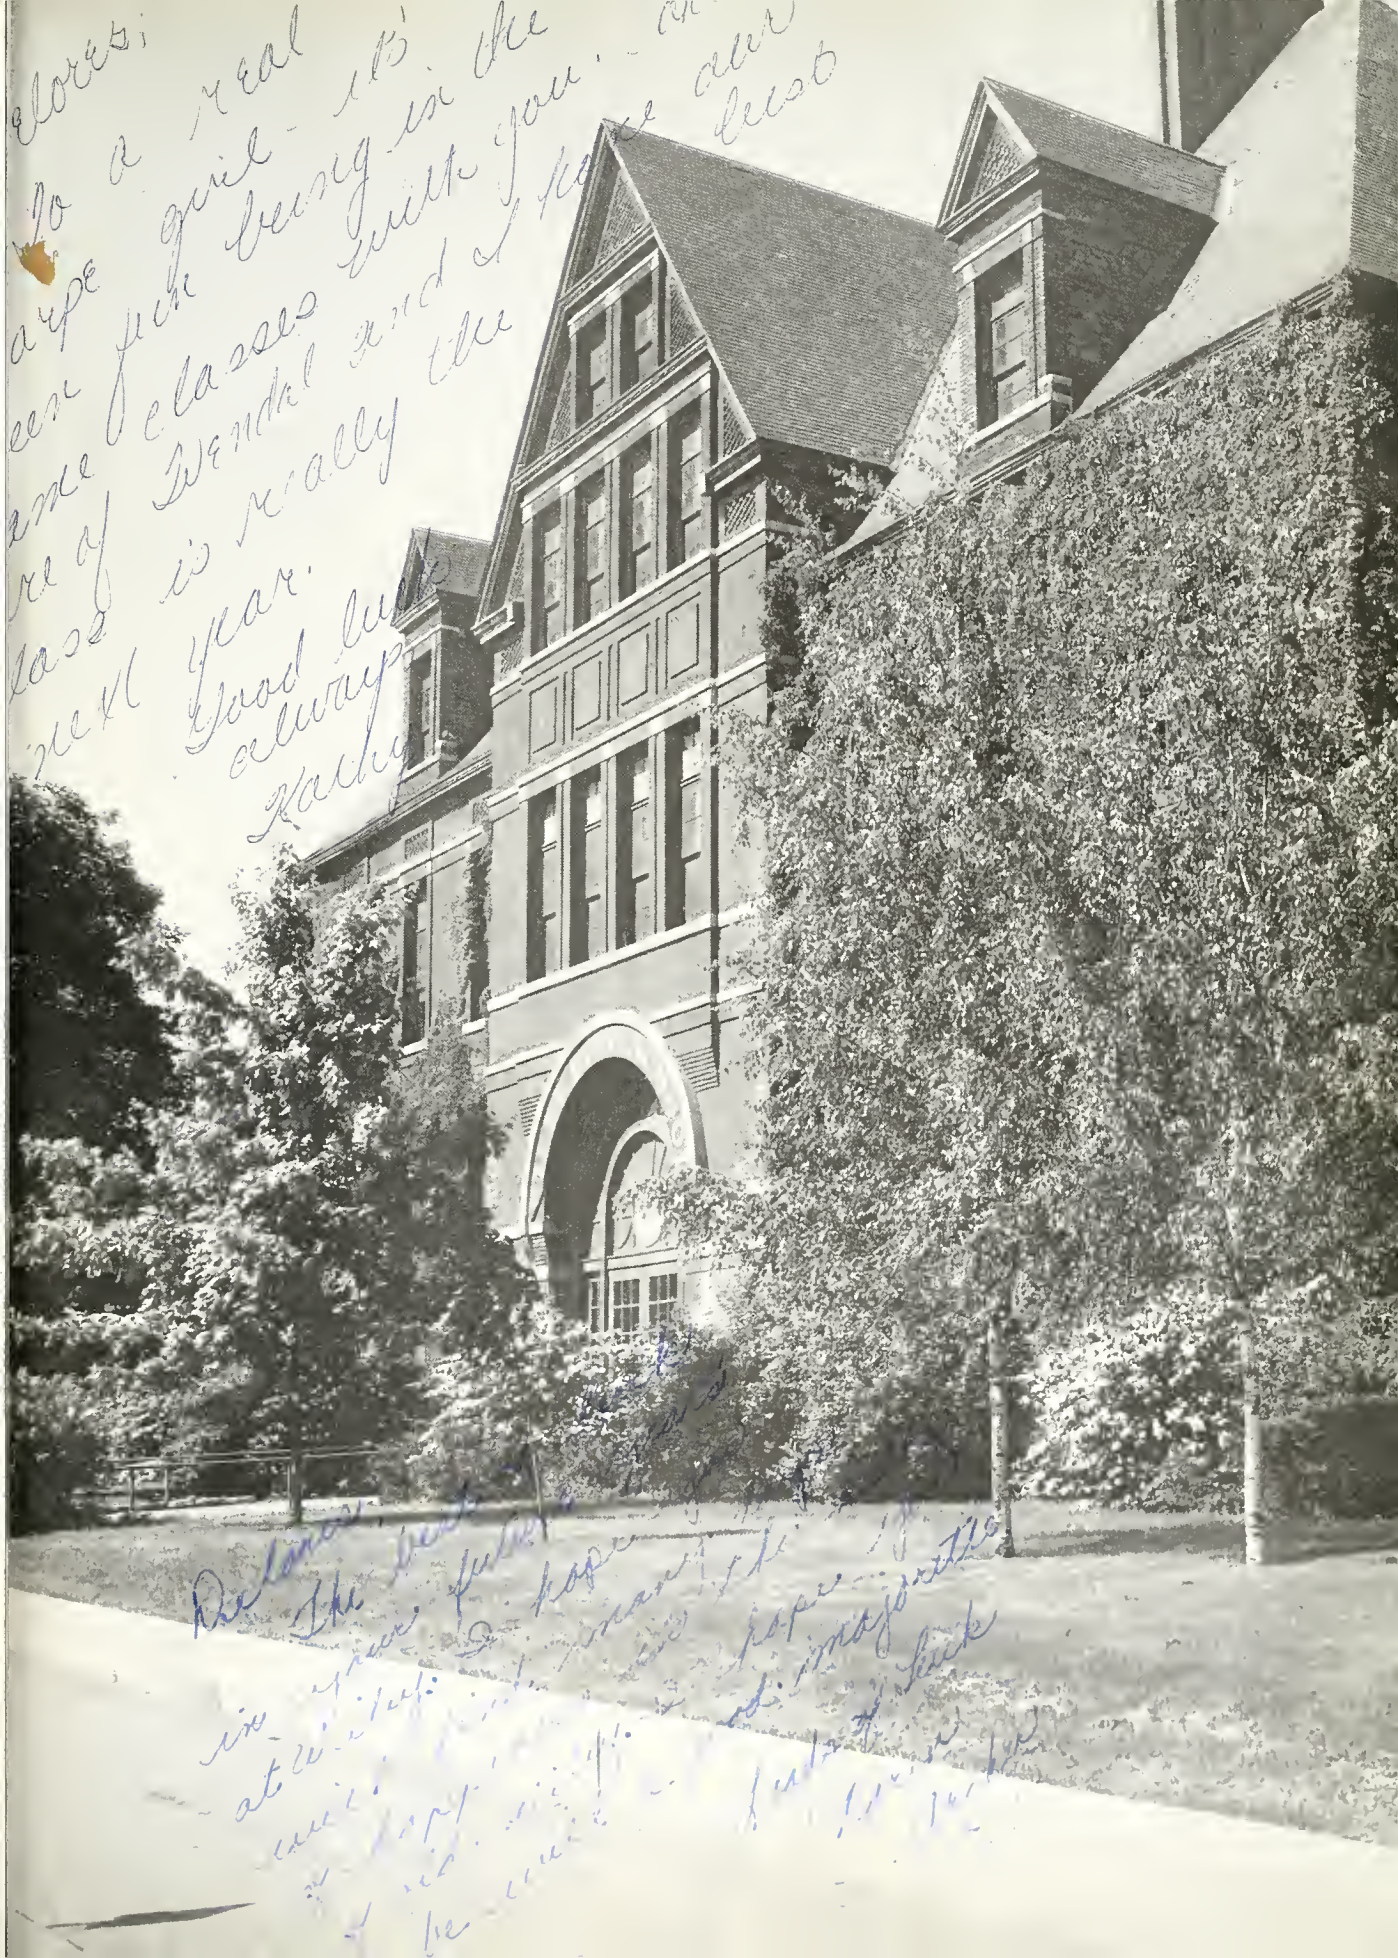
TAKE ME THROUGH YOUR YEAR . . .

His name is Sparkie - he is the Spirit of Wiley. He's present wherever Wileyites go. He slips into the study hall in the morning to hear the latest gossip and see all his friends.

Of course, Sparkie attends regular classes and struggles through like the rest. Sparkie is very active in every club, he swims for Miss Price, sings for Miss Wright, debates for Miss Ray, sells candy for Mr. Payne, serves the community thru the Hi-Y and Y-Teens, sells ads for Mrs. A., marches for Mr. Baine and even finds time for sports. In addition to all this he attends school dances, parties, goes up town at noon and after school, learns all the latest dances and stuffs himself with pizza and cokes.

Sparkie will be around a lot next year, slipping through the pages of the WILEYAN.



PUPILS RELUCTANTLY BEGAN THE YEAR . . .

School began September 3, 1958, and reluctant upperclassmen filed into the gymnasium for the opening convocation. The classes were marked by the colors of their corduroy slacks and skirts. Seniors displayed their superiority by wearing yellow cords and the juniors were aloof in blue. The sophomores, in pink, were seated below the upperclassmen. John Masters, the senior representative, spoke on the subject of living in typical Wiley style and Jean Anderson the sophomore representative, responded with an appreciative speech full of promise and youthful wisdom.

BUT THAT SOON CHANGED!

The bewildered sophomores were guided to their classes by helpful upperclassmen and lines were soon formed at the bookstore by students who wished to buy new textbooks. In the midst of the prevailing chaos extracurricular activities began.

Mr. Herschel Royer was kept busy the first week of school selling textbooks to eager students like Susan Staggs.

The Hi-Y and the Key Club float, "Santa and His Dears", participated in the annual Christmas parade.

ENTERING INTO

Some Wiley students and patrons participated throughout the year with many worthwhile projects. Many of these projects aided not only the school but also the community. These activities were appreciated by all.

Melinda Ames, Marcia Tucker and Sandra Rector, along with many other girls, helped to sell Christmas seals.

One of the active groups around Wiley was the parents of the athletes.

COMMUNITY SPIRIT . . .

The production given by the Drama Club Sophomores was enjoyed by the audiences. Drama President and members of the cast.

To boost the sale of football season tickets a mixer was given for all ticket holders.

Lively pep sessions were to increase school spirit.

OUR MANY SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

The Coronation Ball was given in honor of Miss Peggy Purcell, 1958-59 football queen.

Many Wiley students displayed their talents in the annual Fall Varieties. Prizes were given to the winners in each division.

THIS ALSO HELPED

Alumni and members of the court were honored guests at the annual reception following the coronation held in the gym.

The students' choice of JoAnne Luther as a Basketball Queen proved to be praiseworthy as her reign was a successful one. The elaborate crowning ceremony was sponsored by the Hi-Y under the direction of Mr. Ahrens. A dance honoring Queen JoAnne was held after the coronation in the gym.

All the excitement and happiness was captured forever in a photograph after the coronation.

TO SPICE THE CURRICULUM . . .

Shimmering silver reflected the queen and her attendants in all their majestic glory.

ROW 3: Jack Dyer, John Masters, Bruce Watson, Merrill Boyle, Tom Bosworth, Larry Shaffer, Dick VanDeren, Lewis Pringle.

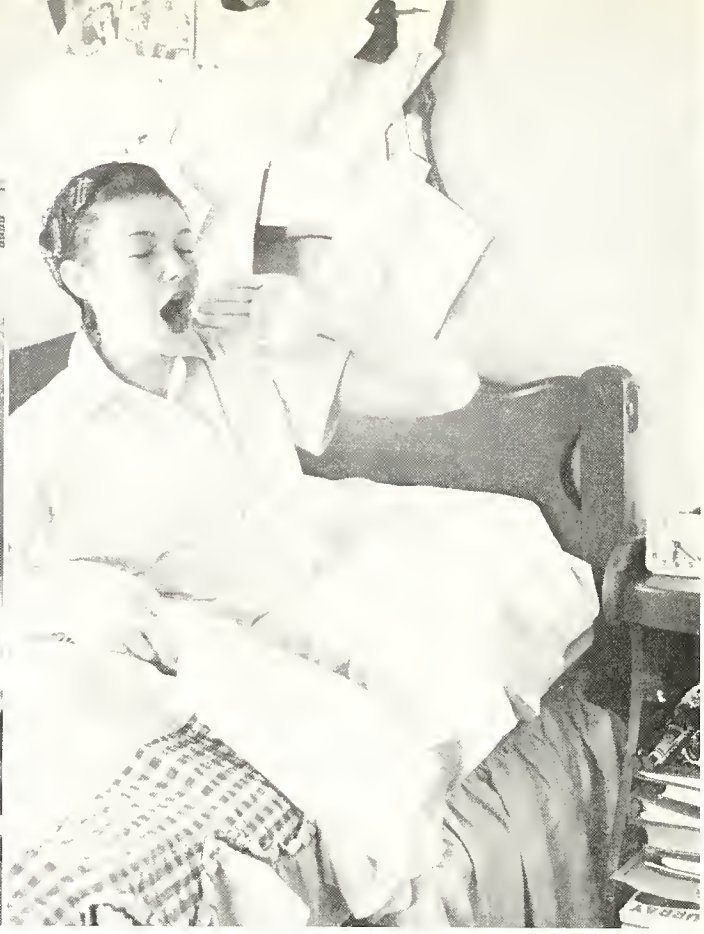
WHO WON AWARDS . . .

Awards were given to students for scholastic as well as extra-curricular accomplishments. Only by striving during their entire years at Wiley have students achieved these honors. Hard work, endurance, responsibility and delivery plus writing abilities also contributed to their success.

For her dependability, leadership, patriotism and service Kay Anderson won the vote of the faculty and her classmates to receive the Daughters of the American Revolution Award.

To receive the American Legion Good Citizenship Award Jack Dyer was selected by the seniors and faculty. This award is based upon personal attributes.

The noon practice by the Struttin' Streaks became a part of Wiley's general day.



Getting up, as Susie knows, proved to be a tedious task.

A CANDID SCAN OF LIFE AT

Slight accidents between classes failed to halt the stampede.

Classes progressed throughout the day.

The halls seemed to have an unreal quietness as the last two students, Melinda Ames and Dave Everson, left.

WILEY HIGH . . .

The studies at Wiley were varied as portrayed by Evan Goodman.

ACTIVITIES

Diverse organizations helped to keep Wiley on an even keel. Clubs throughout the years have become as important as sports to the student morale.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council was Wiley's central governing body. Its membership was made up of representatives elected by each class and approved by the faculty. Each homeroom has a representative who reports the news of the Council to his homeroom.

The Student Council was responsible for several annual projects. The Homecoming activities, which included the election and coronation of the Football Queen and the alumni dance, was their first project for the year. At Christmastime the Council provided a beautifully decorated tree for the main hall. The revue "From Streaks to Stars" encouraged many Wiley students to share their talents. Outstanding senior athletes received sportsmanship awards, given by the Student Council, at the closing of the school year.

Kay Kassabaum, Bill Evans and Marsha Braunschwegier made posters to advertise a forthcoming Student Council event.

The Wiley Key Club, which is affiliated with the Terre Haute Kiwanis Club, lived up to its fine reputation by punctuating the year with many projects.

They sponsored the Safe Driving Week, Twirp Week and aided the Hi-Y Club in building a float for the Christmas Parade. The Beacon School of the Valley received the proceeds from a candy sale also handled by the Key Club. At the close of the year they honored their fathers with a Lads and Dads Banquet.

This year the Key Club can be especially proud of its two members, Mike Donnelly and Bill Evans, who were elected to International Trustee and District Secretary respectively.

The Key Club is an honorary service club, allowing only boys with a "B" average to apply for membership. Even among those who qualify, only a limited number can be accepted.

Everyone's sweet tooth was satisfied by the annual sale of candy. Pictured are Bruce Watson, Merrill Boyle and Mrs. Wayne Boyle.

THE Y-TEENS

Y-Teens has a larger membership than any other Wiley club. All the girl students are eligible to be members of this service and social organization in which there are many opportunities for fellowship, fun and work.

Service projects for this year included collections of linens for the Cancer Society, baskets of food for needy families of the community at Thanksgivingtime, the adoption of a family at Christmas and the collection of clothing for the

A car wash, the operation of the Goodie Shop and two dances helped to raise funds for the projects of the club.

In the fall the Y-Teens gave its own dance, the Cinderella Ball. In February the annual Sweetheart Ball was sponsored by the Wiley club for all the Y-Teens in the city.

The entire club meets monthly and the Cabinet members also have monthly meetings.

A requirement for membership in Y-Teens was an informal initiation which proved to be fun.

The Hi-Y book store provided many students with used books.

The Hi-Y, which is the largest boys' club at Wiley, was useful to the school by performing many worthwhile projects.

This year the Hi-Y, in cooperation with the Key Club, decorated a float for the Christmas Parade which won third place. One of their main projects was the used book store in which students may sell or buy school books. Some of the social activities provided by the Hi-Y for the students were the annual bonfire, basketball coronation and dance and a noon mixer.

The Hi-Y is affiliated with the Terre Haute YMCA and tries in every way to uphold the fundamentals for which this organization stands.

A WORTHY ORGANIZATION

BEFORE

AFTER

A dummy was burned in effigy to show desire to win the game. Students yelled and cheered as they gathered around the bonfire.

At a school assembly Michael Workman presented his prize-winning essay on Optimism.

Mike Donnelly delivered his American Legion oratorical contest speech to the student body. Mike was the winner of the state competition.

DEBATERS TAKE TOP HONORS

The debaters brought home many honors to Wiley this year under the excellent supervision of Miss Winnifred Ray. The Debate Club met once a week. Their many trips to various sections of the state have brought them fame.

The awards for the best actor and actress of the one-act plays were presented to Jean Anderson and Lloyd Rich by President Carol Miller.

DRAMA CLUB WAS IN THE SPOTLIGHT

The main purpose of Drama Club was to inspire new talent. Each week it gave the students a chance to participate in a dramatic production. The students taking an active part in the club were inspired to reach for new goals in acting. The high-light of the year was the three one-act plays which proved to rank high in enjoyment for the audience as well as the cast.

The Drama Club members attended a weekly meeting.

The acts, "Alaska" and "Society," in the water show were well received by the audience.

EXTRA! EXTRA!

The Catalina Club presented its fourth annual water show called "The Big Splash." With the newspaper theme, thirteen numbers portrayed different sections of the newspaper. In addition to the excellent swimming, the beautiful backdrop, drops and costumes added much to the show.

The Catalina Club was comprised of twenty-six girls. They practiced four days each week throughout the year and on Sundays for three weeks before the show which was March 11, 12, 13, 14.

The show was a huge success each night. All the girls are anxiously looking forward to their next year's show.

The theme was carried out in the Finale as the entire cast dressed as paper boys.

Soloists were Kay Anderson, Jane Benham and Emily Cox.

CATALINAS STROKE TO SUCCESS

The three acts, Theatre, Crossword and The Lone Ranger, were ably executed by Gerri Batman, Judy Minnis, Betty Davis, Mary Lou Leachman, Julie White, Holly Hahn, Merry Jane Reich, Susan Day, Nancy Patton, Emily Cox, Eleanor Lee, Mary Lou Matthews, Shirley Kibler, Kay Kassabaum.

AND THE BAND PLAYED ON!

The band and orchestra have been under the direction of Mr. Leslie E. Bain, Jr. This is his first year at Wiley and all of Wiley hope that he will be here for many years to come.

The marching band, consisting of 54 members, performed during the football season. They played at every home game and provided many clever half time shows. They also played at the home basketball games and presented the fans with entertainment during the half time intermissions.

The Wiley band has also marched in the Fire Parade, the Blue and White Parade and the Christmas Parade. They presented dance routines during two of these. Wiley owes much of its school spirit to its marching band.

The Wiley Struttin' Streaks and Majorettes glamorized the football and basketball games by performing at half-times.

The Struttin' Streaks, under the leadership of Peggy Gilder, contained thirty-three members.

The majorettes also performed at half-times and shone brightly in all the parades. There were five majorettes lead by Carla Mankin.

The Majorettes helped add color to the band.

SERVICES TO MANY

Students received invaluable experience by aiding in office work. They also were an aid to the school by performing the routine tasks of the offices, thus relieving faculty members. The slip collectors helped the deans in checking attendance. Athletic office workers assisted the coaches with clerical work.

Dick Roberts and Pete Wormser performed their duty of collecting attendance slips.

CULTURAL INTERESTS WERE AROUSED

The Scribbler's Club was organized for the cultivation of interest in writing. The members' contributions were submitted to informal discussion in order that writing technique might be improved. "The Scribblerus," published biennially, contained the best works of the club.

The Library Club's purpose at Wiley was to aid the librarian, Miss Turk. They also created an interest in books for the rest of the student body. The displays found in the library, which usually coinsided with National Weeks, were arranged by the junior librarians.

REDSTREAK—OPPORTUNITY FOR JOURNALISTIC ABILITY

The Redstreak staff, under the leadership of Sue-z Potter and guidance of Mrs. Adamson, spent much time publishing the school paper.

A column entitled "The Shadow" was a new feature added to the make-up of the paper.

Humor, exchange news items, sports, calendars of coming events and student comments were among the best ever published at Wiley High School.

Jane Benham, Sue-z Potter and Susan Fowler lay out a REDSTREAK.

Editor, Evan Goodman, and sponsor, Mrs. Margaret Jane Adamson, solved many major administrative problems.

The members of the staff and Mrs. Adamson, faculty advisor, worked hard to make the 1959 Wileyan a success. The vast amount of work necessary to promote the business, editorial and mechanical features of the book has fallen on the members of the staff and Mrs. Adamson who have worked hard. It has been an educational venture for the staff to learn about the press work and engraving necessary to produce a book. Only through the complete cooperation of the student body and advertisers was it possible to publish the book.

The eventful senior year was not over until the day of days, graduation. The seniors headed for their "Last Round-up," during the Senior Week festivities. The fair, the Honor Society Initiation, the "Senior Sunset," and the all-night parties finished out the western theme of Senior Week. Our dances, the serious romances, the nights we didn't get home till two — these will always be remembered in our hearts so true.

Dear D,
It's been nice, being around you (so many times now I had the desire to take you in my arms and show you a bear hug). But getting down to real business I think you real swell and a very pretty girl. I couldn't say you a loser, because I haven't dated you yet!

Delores
It is a real sweet girl whom I have enjoyed knowing in our junior year.
May your senior year be full of luck in whatever you attempt. See you next year.
